

- After the death of Horus during the Horus Heresy, the Sons of Horus would later metamorphosized and become the dreaded Black Legion, however, not all the Sons of Horus wanted to join the former First Captain Ezekyle Abaddon and his Black Legion. The True Sons was a breakaway formation of Sons of Horus that was utterly dedicated to the fallen Warmaster and his memory. They rose to challenge the Black Legion but unfortunately they failed. The thrice-cursed Traitor Legion was wiped out of official Imperium records by official decree of a Edict of Obliteration, however, some surviving Loyalist veterans of the Sons of Horus survived after the Black Legion's bombardment and Isstvan III
- Horus heresy
- In the aftermath of the Horus Heresy, the galaxy was still embroiled in unending conflict, with numerous factions vying for power and control. Among these were the Serrated Shield, a renegade Space Marine chapter, and the Iron Warriors, a traitor legion known for their siege warfare. Both formidable and ruthless, their clash became a hallmark of the post-Heresy chaos. The Serrated Shield, led by the enigmatic Ephronus Gadrius, were infamous for their brutal tactics and unyielding loyalty to Horus. They sought to establish their own empire amidst the Imperium's decline, using lightning raids and surprise assaults to destabilize their enemies. Their unorthodox strategies made them a formidable opponent, often catching foes off guard and exploiting the smallest weaknesses.
- Opposing them were the Iron Warriors, led by their brutal and calculating commanders. Masterful in siege warfare, they responded to the Serrated Shield's raids with devastating counterattacks and meticulously planned sieges. Their expertise in fortifications and attrition warfare turned many battles into prolonged and bloody stalemates.
- The conflict spanned countless worlds, each becoming a theater of war marked by unrelenting violence and strategic cunning. From barren wastelands to sprawling hive cities, the war between the Serrated Shield and the Iron Warriors left a path of destruction
- As the war dragged on, both sides suffered heavy losses, but neither was willing to yield. In the end, it was not a decisive victory that settled the conflict, but rather the shifting tides of chaos itself. Internal strife and rivalries within both factions eventually led to a fragile truce, though hostilities between the Serrated Shield and the Iron Warriors continue to simmer, waiting to ignite once more at the slightest provocation.
- 41st Millennium
- After 10,000 years, the resurrected Ultramarines Primarch Roboute Guilliman and his newly revealed Primaris Space Marines fought upon his homeworld of Macragge against Forces of Chaos. During this time, the Chapter came to light within official imperial records. They referred to themselves as the Serrated Shield Chapter. Their record by Imperium remains a mystery henceforth from Inquisition, only some space marines chapters know they existence.
- A campaign was planned With the Minotaurs and Grey Knights faced the veterans of serrated shield and there Chapter Master, Asterion Moloc, and the chapter master of the serrated shield Ephronus Gadrius look at each other both chapters masters won't back down before a battle can happen a thunderhawk gunship landing, an Inquisitor Maldor came up to the chapter masters saying that high lords ask both stop surrender, by Ordo Malleus, they checked the chapter tent of chaos, they where clear both fractions back to there gunships, serrated shield destroyer squad aiming at the gray knights they know what they are can do, Ephronus speaks keep 2 ship being our fleet when we out of the sector then prepare for wrap jump.
- The chapter were able to learn About the Shadow Crusade, the chapter looked up to Argel Tal, the former Chapter Master of the Serrated Suns and his legend. the Serrated Shield took part of their name.
- Technology golden age Archmagos Dominus Belisarius Cawl Meeting with serrated shield representative for mars and a deal, an Battle barge, that the chapter acquire name Lions spear 3 legionaries as well there Chapter Master, the chapter came bored on Tech Priests cruiser, the tech priest analyse uncovered a long lost Standard Template Construct (STC), a relic of ancient technology believed to hold the key to untold advancements. Knowing the value of such a discovery, the Mechanicus made a proposition to the Serrated Shield Chapter: in exchange for the relic and their continued service to the Imperium, they would be granted dominion over a Forge World. But this gift was not without conditions, the mechanicus lock most of technology, to get across the chapter must send at least few astartes to go back to Mars as be train to be tech marines as part of the exchange, the chapter send few astartes as part this temporary opportunity, the Mechanicus fulfilled their end of the bargain, granting the renegade chapter access to the secrets of the Forge World.
- The Chapter Master, seeing the opportunity to secure the future for his brethren, accepted the offer without hesitation. And so, the Mechanicus bestowed upon the Serrated Shield Chapter the Forge World of Arkanis Prime.
- It's Chapter tradition to dip the skulls of worthy enemies in gold, which then adorn their battle-plate from black chains. Now all they want is to end the Black Legion and take back the legacy of the true warmaster

Campaigns: Renegade betrayal 019.M39

- Ephronus Gadrius look at shield captain, he way to strike one of legionnaires Ephronus gadrius block the strike and push back the shield captain, "what are you doing astarte" shield captain of custodian guard looking at Ephronus a battle was going to happen Ephronus and the shield captain lock up Ephronus pick up a guardian spear he remembers his training as a deathwatch watch master, then the custodian came at him smack bade on bade, the emperor's guardian Was on him, both clash your betrayal this won't go unnoticed" the fighting continues, on battle grounds Ephronus see his brothers falling one by one, they weren't as powerful as the emperor chosen, but they holding their line enough, the shield Captain with swipe Ephronus keeping bashing the the blows away a normal, Astartes wouldn't last this long, another swing smack the chapter master, shove the Guardian spear downwards the shield captain reflex it, form the early training Ephronus remembers the training match how the custodian mock him after beaten him constantly, the shield Captain keep finding every way to beat Ephronus the differences form a space marine to a custodian, then another blow brought Ephronus back another parry by the shield Captain then an strike with the fist, a Serrated shield Thunderhawk landed, shot fire by the emperor chosen and with serrated shield veterans it was blood bath a a chao ritual was completed as swarm of daemons ran at the custodies and possessed space marines started tearing custodies apart, shield captain shouted you heretic but Ephronus just staring no emotions just training and waiting, then shield captain again with strike Ephronus parry's everything that was throw at him, with a slash took Ephronus helmet got cut clean off and uppercut to the face, the shield captain look at Ephronus he still staring at me, with rage in the shield captain eyes the master of the emperor chosen, charge at Ephronus both lock up once again Ephronus seen the mistake of the shield captain then Ephronus used the shaft and sweep the shield captain guardian spear out of his hands quickly the shield captain takes out misericordia and try stab the chapter master Ephronus step to the side and cut the shield captain arm off with swing the shield captain punch Ephronus in the ribs Ephronus came back with a swipe up with the guardian spear taken the head of the custodian clean off, the battle was ended my lord what we should do the custodian they must not contact the XIII primarch, they wipes most of our primaris brothers how did your win , Ephronus with his eyes I have seen that expression before before in the siege of terra Ephronus prue silent.

• 999.M41 • Serrated shield first campaigns against half hive fleet Leviathan in the unknown region of space, serrated shield had built a Legion sizes force to protect there key planets in the unknown regions pass through ghoul stars.

• 999.M36 Serrated shield sent forces into the galaxy against black Legion in the 5th black crusade.

• 999.M39 serrated shield back up the a Night lords warband to battle against the world eaters

HOLY TERRA
Blessed in his authority, here dwells the most beneficent Emperor.

Imperial Scholastica
Bodians

- Serrated shield justaerin guards
- serrated shield honor guards are elite of elite within the chapter , they guard the warmaster himself, they also play role as sentinel, Wardens of a squad or whole company seeing one of them in battle is sure turn heads as they use there lost battle art they spar with top champions of other chapters or even go one to one with a custodian but this is very rare.
- serrated shield honor guards have best weapons that legion have access most of there technology and weapons are secret to there order they guardian spears called sentinel spears they emulate the custodian guards. in the armoury are the sentinel spears most of there weapons are Master craft as well dark age technology . having access to Cataphractii Pattern Terminator Armour as well as they standard armour are new build of exceptional craftsmanship it's construction is a secret of their order, every armour is modified to highest quality.

Chapter Relics

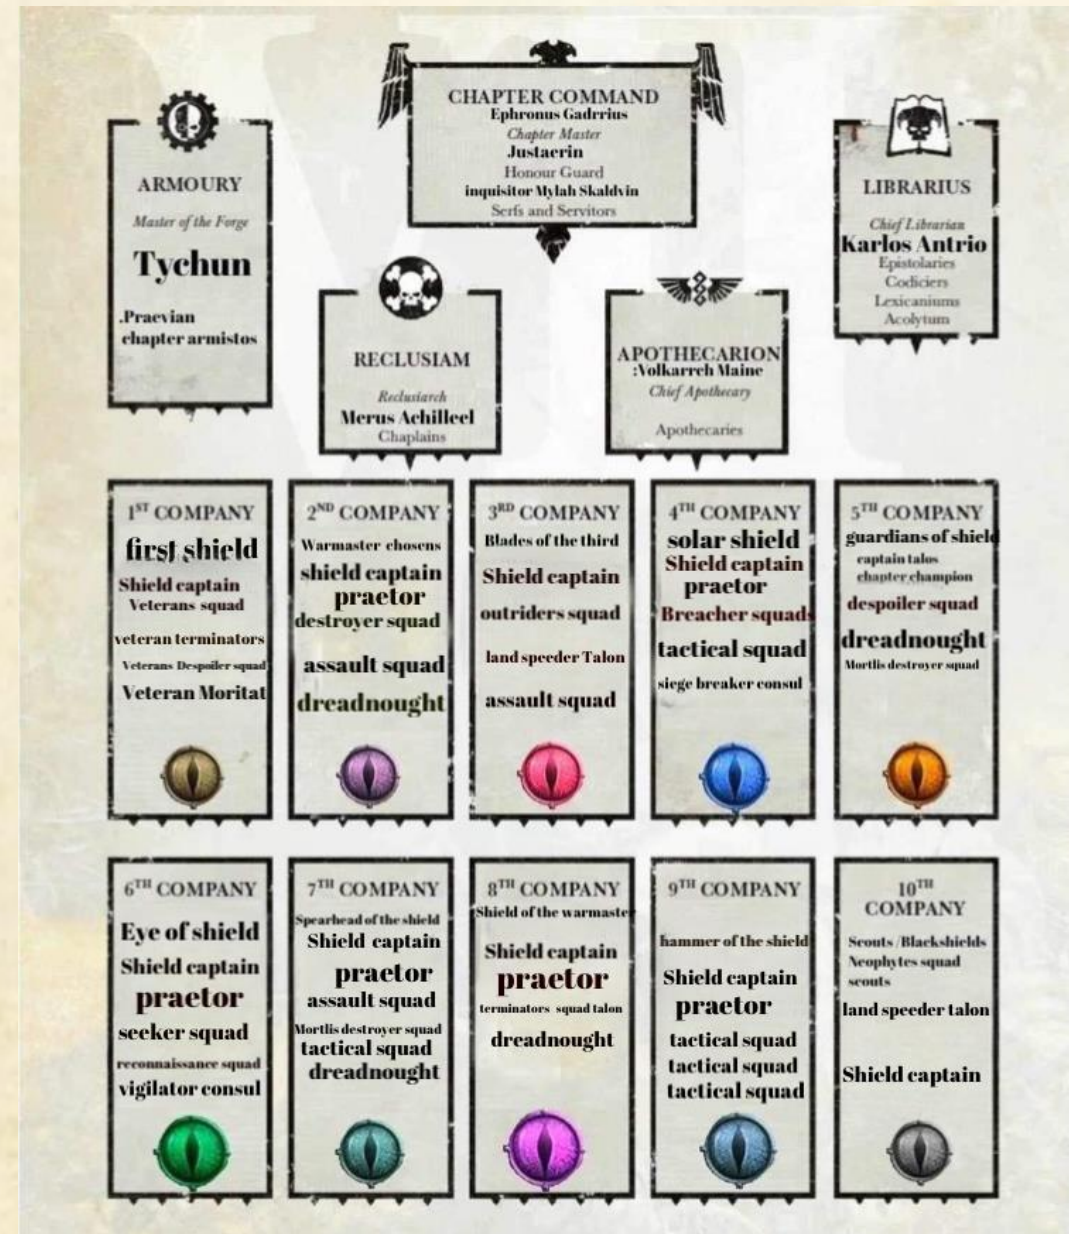

- Chapter Relics
- Guardian of Cthonia: A twin blades made during the dark age of technology a wielded by the chapter master
- Armoury of the Warmaster: A few rare numbers of Cataphractii Pattern Terminators unique armours , the chapter favor this relic of armour
- Sword of Oblivion: Used by Chief Librarian once held by a daemon prince of the black legion
- Blades of Iron: Relic swords once use by argel tal
- Phoenix power spear : a master craft spear once used by a emperor children captain, now gifted by the warmaster of serrated shield to one of the justaerin guards of the chapter.
- Obsidian phaseblade : A relic master craft sword made with advanced STC secret to the chapter.
- Aeternus: A master-crafted suit of artificer armour of the Chapter Master fragments from Horus armour Serpent's Scales name of the new artificer armour Aeternus. Translated from High Gothic, its name means 'Eternal'.

Chapter doctrine and ranked serrated shield doesn't follow the codex astartes, based there rank structure

On the first founded Legions Principia Belicosa

Most of there ranks are name form the Legions structure. each company haves a role in chapter based on the dark angels hexagrammaton every company is called a shield the difference form a normal astartes company is that no company is higher then the other except first called company.

- Specialist Units and Formations
- Despoiler squads : serrated legionnaires favour this formation form old gangs of Cthonia armed with power axes , chain swords, chain axes power swords ,bolt pistols
- Breacher squads : with shield and bolter the serrated shield use this formation for borden ships and kill teams.
- Mortlis destroyer squad: armed with vokite, autocannons, heavy bolter, plasma cannons, lascannons, rotor cannons , frag cannons, missile launchers

- specialty ranks
- Shield captain :
- sergeant :chieftain
- Lieutenant :praetor
- Battle brothers :legionaries
- veterans : warmasters chosen

Every sergeant to the veteran sergeant wears a top knot helm
Every sergeant is trusted and honor to be equipped with plasma, not always required but its favour in the legion.

Serrated shield justgerin armour marks are modified artificer armours with sentinel spears, each equipped with build Conversion Field as well teleport Homer the rank of lieutenant within the serrated shield isn't uncommon only requires if the captain needed reinforcements or need a leadership on specialised company.

Every battle brother is a hero in his own right, every serrated shield battle brother is vital important of the chapter. A golden eye of sun is place on every battle brother armour.

The veterans of chapter are the hammer and the chapters most experience, they will run into the battle with a roar and fury.

shield Justaerin honor guards are elite of elite

shield Traitoris is a unit within the chapter, the unit use chaos as a weapon

- Chapter Appearance
- The Serrated Shield's form standard battle brother to the first company veterans, wears artificer armours , after the neophyte induction to full battle brother they will have choice and what they do with there armour, each armour is master crafted and the chapter treat every battle pate as relics.

Chapter Recruitment

- Each Aspirants are recruited form the chapters homeworld, each be will train and spar with each others , an Aspirant must bestie and win against better fighters and champions above them, in the fighting pits or cage after that they should be able to do running, lifting, and having the knowledge of technology and master every weapon, as well being a perfect marksman, the final test a neophyte must go and take out a warlord.

- Genetic Flaws

- The serrated shield gene seed is pure but it has been documented that chapters use chimeric gene seeds and Being Sons of Horus originally they are hated from both sides. Some chapters respect them, even though some of the Blood Angels cannot trust them due to the fact their Primarch their gene-sire Sanguinius

- Homeworld
- Xentronia once a pleasure world of the richest, it was attack by the Tyranids hivefleet, now the chapter took over the planet for there own. Building it to a paradise for there own people, for there retired brothers or there highest ranks citizens, even myth where they study new technology, SCTs East of ultima segmentum beyond the ghouls stars .

- Fortress-Monastery A beautiful temple name Serpent's Vigil on there home world Xentronia Where the chapter keeps its Relics and artifacts, hall of hero's and champions, Even being the advanced planet It's still keeps it beautiful landscapes and long rivers a true paradise. Keeping artifacts form Campaign's believe to have some custodes weapons and dark age technology, and ever battle brothers of the chapter will kneel down for the honor of fallen hero's and there name will be on the main hall of Serpent's Vigil.

Chapter Fleet

- Liberator of Katora (Apocalypse-class Battleship): This legendary guardian responsible for multiple conquests of schismatic defenses at Katora Rex and personal flagship of Chapter Master Ephronus Gadrius.
- The Spear shield (massive semi-mobile space fortress)
 - Spear shield is a Fortress of the Dark Age The Spear shield is a colossal, semi-mobile space fortress constructed during the Dark Age of Technology, an era renowned for its unparalleled technological advancements and subsequent collapse. This behemoth, once a symbol of humanity's zenith, now serves as the formidable keep of the Serrated Shield Chapter, a faction of Space Marines known for their tenacity and martial prowess. The fortress houses some of their most revered technology and relics, blending the ancient with the post-apocalyptic present. Commissioned at the height of the Dark Age of Technology, the Spear shield was designed as a self-sustaining bastion of human civilization. Built from the strongest adamantium alloys and protected by energy fields of unimaginable strength, the fortress was intended to serve as a bulwark against the unknown perils of deep space. It features gargantuan plasma reactors, arcane data-vaults, and an armory stocked with weaponry capable of decimating entire fleets. Spear shield is an amalgamation of both a colossal warship and a fortified station. Its semi-mobile nature allows it to drift through space, albeit slowly, to reposition strategically within a star system. The fortress is divided into multiple sectors: Central Command Citadel The heart of the Spear shield, this citadel houses the command bridge, data archives, and the primary communications array. It is heavily shielded and protected by automated defense systems. Vault of Relics A sanctum dedicated to storing the Serrated Shield Chapter's most precious relics. Here lie the ancient power armor of their founding members, archaic weaponry imbued with lost technologies, and artifacts rumored to possess mysterious powers. The Forge Halls A massive section devoted to the maintenance and creation of war gear. Operated by a cadre of Techmarines, the Forge Halls contain ancient STC (Standard Template Construct) machinery, allowing for the production of advanced armaments and vehicles. Hangar Bays Capable of launching and receiving a variety of spacecraft, the hangars are bustling with activity. They house Thunderhawks, Stormravens, and even a few ancient Dark Age vessels retrofitted for modern use. Barracks and Training Grounds This sector is dedicated to the Serrated Shield warriors. It includes barracks, training simulators, and combat arenas where Space Marines hone their skills. Engine and Propulsion Decks Although the Spear shield is not designed for rapid movement, its propulsion systems allow it to navigate the void with dignity. These decks also contain the fortress's primary power sources, which include fusion reactors and warp-based energy conduits. Spear shield storied past is intertwined with the rise and fall of human civilization. During the Great Crusade, it served as a strategic command center for explorations and conquests. In the Age of Strife, it became a refuge, defending against the encroaching darkness of anarchy and warp storms. With the rise of the Imperium, it was rediscovered and claimed by the Serrated Shield Chapter, who recognized its immense value. Relics of the fortress The Helm of Argos: An ancient helmet with advanced targeting systems and protective fields, said to have belonged to a legendary hero from the Dark Age. -The Blade of Aeons a power sword of immense potency, capable of cutting through the toughest armor with ease. Its energy core is a relic of forgotten technology. The Aegis of Eternity A shield generator capable of producing a force field that can repel even the most devastating of attacks. The Spear shield stands as a testament to the resilience and ingenuity of humanity's past. For the Serrated Shield Chapter, it is more than a home; it is a symbol of their unyielding spirit and their commitment to protect the three people at all costs. Within its vast halls, the legacies of the Dark Age of Technology are preserved, studied, and revered, ensuring that the knowledge and power of the ancients continue to aid and the chapters weapons in its darkest hours.
- Storm of Cullrae (Strike Cruiser): Legendary cruiser present at countless exterminations of void strongholds at Cullrae Primus.
- Lightning-Shrike (Strike Cruiser): A strike cruiser Righteous escort sorely tested by countless bombardments of t'au scum at YmnoI VII.
- Ardent Vanguard (Unknown Class; Frigate): Light ship Hardened defender lauded for great operations against Aeldari fanatics at Ghorsta's Forge.

- Vehicles
- KRATOS HEAVY ASSAULT TANK this beast of a tank was used in unification wars and the chapter treasure his relic.
- XIPHON PATTERN INTERCEPTOR
- the chapter have numerous of flyers in the chapter the xiphon blast of skys and used against air assault.
- CONTEMPTOR DREADNOUGHTS
- its unknown how many contemptor dreadnought are in the chapter , they prefer this Pattern of dreadnought, and purposely hiding ships away form there main legion during the horus heresy.
- SICARAN BATTLE TANK
- the chapter will fight to keep This relic in there hands, the chapter master himself blasted an iron warriors battle barge and took numerous of this relic with them before blowing up everything.
- SKY-HUNTER JET-BIKES
- not in the chapters battlelines structure they are used only used by the veterans of the chapter and only brought out for fast strikes campaigns.
-
-

Notable members

- Warmaster (Chapter Master) Ephronus Gadrius : Ephronus Gadrius was once a formidable warrior of the Sons of Horus, serving with distinction in the 12th Company. Born on Cthonia, Gadrius was known for his strategic acumen and ferocious combat prowess. His skills earned him the respect of his peers and the attention of his superiors, eventually leading him to fight in the legendary Battle of the Lion's Gate during the Siege of Terra. During this pivotal battle, Gadrius witnessed firsthand the horrors and the brutal reality of the Horus Heresy. The once unbreakable bonds of brotherhood were shattered as the galaxy was engulfed in the flames of treachery and betrayal. Though a loyal servant of Horus, Gadrius began to harbor deep doubts about the Warmaster's vision and the ultimate cost of their rebellion. In the aftermath of the Siege of Terra and the eventual defeat of Horus, Gadrius and his surviving brothers of the 12th Company found themselves adrift in a galaxy that viewed them as pariahs. Disillusioned by the chaos and the destructive path of the Sons of Horus, Gadrius made a fateful decision. He gathered like-minded warriors who were equally disenchanted with the Warmaster's legacy and sought a new purpose away from the shadow of their former Legion. Gadrius founded the renegade Chapter known as the Serrated Shield. The Chapter's name symbolizes their dual nature: a weapon that can both protect and inflict devastating wounds. The Serrated Shield swore to carve out a new destiny, one that rejected the tyranny of the Imperium and the madness of Chaos alike. They became mercenaries and crusaders, striking against those they deemed corrupt or oppressive, while fiercely defending those who sought freedom from tyranny. He is the was only one in the chapter to cross the rubicon to become primaris. an rare record is that his meeting with the captain general of the Adeptus Custodes, kneeling asking forgiveness a quote " his guardian's having there powers wepons at my head the cracking power I know if I make the wrong move i better then dead" a squad of custodes was send out with the Ephronus back to the chapter .
- the battle against the warmaster of chaos Ephronus struck first, his power sword slicing through the air with blinding speed. Abaddon parried with his own sword , the clash of their weapons sending shockwaves rippling through the ruins. Sparks flew as Ephronus met the Talon of Horus, the force of their blows creating a maelstrom of energy around them. With a guttural roar, Abaddon unleashed a flurry of attacks, his movements a blur of deadly precision. Ephronus met each strike with unwavering resolve, his double blades absorbing the impact of the Talon while his swords, For what seemed like an eternity, the battle raged on, neither warrior willing to yield an inch. Blood flowed freely from their wounds, Then with a ferocious cry, Abaddon summoned the dark powers of Chaos, his body enveloped in a writhing aura of malevolence. glowed with a sinister light, the talon hits Ephronus crushing his rib cage Abaddon pick up Ephronus and look at at him before anything said Ephronus head butt Abaddon , a squad of serrated shield save there chapter master they teleport away , my lord are you okay Ephronus reply "ha I head butt the choosing of chaos" .
- First Captain Vortiger: the first captain of serrated shield , second to Ephronus Gadrius former justaerin in sons of Horus he is a master commander as well one of the deadly warriors in the chapter.
- Chief Librarian Karlos Antrio: the of the powerful pykers in the chapter, his skills and knowledge is precious to the chapter learning the knowledge form the primus nullificator and warmonger consuls form first founding legions.
- Apothecary Volkarrch Maine: the primus medicai of the chapter.
- Techmarine Tychun: as chief techmarine of chapter who trains the chapter's mortificator, pravian ,armistos, masters of signals.
- vigilator Kias Karovan: a specialist sniper marksman in serrated shield chapter.
- Chapter champion Teradgal: the first champion of the chapter Teradgal was ruthless taken down champions of chaos, xenos, imperials
- Chaplain Merus Achilleel: is chief chaplain of serrated shield chapter his knowledge of Esoterist to protect the chapter of use it as a weapon.
- Tiberus: a leviathan siege dreadnought of the chapter, Tiberus was badly wounded at siege of terra and put in stasis by the chapter.
- Mylah Skaldvin: Volatile scourge of Aeldari corruption and the chapter's favourite warrior , she leads the Chapter's laws and oaths, she also serves as the chapter's confessor.
- Moritat : Valenteon: First Moritat of serrated shield chapter.

- Allies
- red corsairs
night lords
- Enemies
- Black legion

red corsairs : huron blackheart respect the serrated shield chapter and made Allies so if the time comes both the red Corsair and serrated shield will go to war on the black legion.

- Xentroniends , name shield auxilia is the chapters auxilia .

- The shield Valkyries are all female order
- That Brings Arms to the chapter, not genetic enhance like astartes of the chapter, there armour is master craft Ceramite armour, not as power in same as the astartes with build in plasma core they boost the wearer speed and agility
- Being part of serrated shield auxilia they deployed with same weaponry as the legionnaires, there standard issue mark II accatran lasgun, same with the shield auxilia of Xentronia, they share the same ranked structure as the legionnaires.

-
- Battle Cry "This our last stand!" "We are the bulwark!"
"For the Warmaster!" "For Argel Tal!"

Notable Quotes

- We will stand For our last breath we shall know no fear, We are hated by both sides but we still fight for what's right.
- BY SHIELD CAPTAIN EZDEKAI
- The thrice-cursed Traitor Legion

